Silver—Causes of its Decrease in Value.

WASHINGTON, November 10.—The annual report of the Directors of the Minthas been printed. After full details of purchases and coinage, and statements regarding the production of gold and silver, it closes with the following statement in regard to the course of silver bullion:

"At the date of the passage of the act authorizing the coinage of dollars of 412 grains the price of bar silver was about fifty-five pence per ounce, British standard. From that date, February 28, last, the price gradually declined until it reaching the price gradually declined until it reaching the foregoing it will be seen the expression all measures other than those price gradually declined until it reaching the price gradual th above its market value, it goals is cere-tained as the principal money of payment and of conmerce. It should be added in this connection that while silver is the monetary standard of the Austrian, Hun-garian, and Russian empires, their more garian, and Russian empires, their more recent public loans have been made upon a gold basis, which will require their tariff duties to be collected in that metal. For-eign exchanges are likewise settled on a gold basis."

Washingrox, November 10.—The Democrats are greatly dejected on accounted the losses sustained in the late election, and they make no attempt to conceal the apprehensions of their inability to control the organization of the House in the Forty-sixth Congress. Prior to the election they had been calculating upon a clear majority of upwards of twenty, but they are not certain now that they will have a clear majority at all. The loss of two members in North Carolina (Waddell and Yates) and ong in Maryland (Peter), and the failure to defeat Jorgensen in the Petersburg District, in Virginia, are especially disheartoning to those who expected that the South would have a solid Democratic representation. The best they can do in the way of a boast now is that, allowing for all misaps and losses, they will have a majority of three with which to effect the organization of the House. This, they admit, is drawing it down to a very fine point, but their most liberal figuring does not encourage shem to hope for much more than this. At all events, they foresee trouble and a rough road to travel. The conduct of a few of their members during the last session stands as a warning that it is difficult, with

New Orleans, November 10.—The friends of Ex.Gov. Wells, Republican Congressional candidate in the Fourth Louisiana District, show cause of grievous complaint. The district gives a registered colored majority, presumably Republican, for 7,000. It returned McClary by 9,000 in 1870. Gerge L. Smith, present Collector, was returned by 10,000 in 1873. Wells had excluded the carpet baggers, and was to have his walk over the track. He has unquestionably had it. On the night of November 3, the office of Wells' organ, We, the People, in Alexandria, was enfored by a crowd, and fairly guited, the press broken, the type scattered about the street, and cases thrown into the river. The returns show that Merchant, bolting Republican, had some 1,400, Acklen 500, and Herbert 200, votes. Some 2,500 votes, as claimed, were thrown out, mostly because of the claim that the ward was not printed on the back of the ward was not printed on the back of the ticket.

In St. Marys, Thursday following the election, parties broke into the Court House, stole the election returns, boxes and ballots, and destroyed them by fire. Herbert will certainly contest the seat. In the city the contest on behalf of the citizens is earnest enough. Affidavits are being taken by the hundred, mostly regarding frauds as practiced by the managers of the election. Many of them, properly supported, would seem to seriously involve the office of the United States Marshal in refusing, when properly called infon, to make arrests. Gov. Nicholls is understood as seriously embarrassed in the premises, and as hesitating in the matter of commissions. He is reported as pledged on the one hand to the Citizens' Commissioners to the effect that proofs being presented of the case as claimed, the commissions for the offices of Criminal Sheriff, and Coroner should be withheld. He'is said again, on the other, as pledged to Lieutenant Governor Willz, that the commissions shall issue. Citizen representatives say that the Governor is between two fires. He does not wish to appear as indorsing fraud. He is a candidate for either re-election or for the United States Senate as successor to Kellogg, and may dot ignore the demands of the ma

The nominal parties to the controversy are the city and State of California. The decision is in favor of the State on the survey, which until a recent period has been universally accepted as correct, and the effect of this decision, if confirmed by the Sccretary of the Interior, will be to leave all existing titles derived from the city undisturbed, as well as those adjacent to the exterior boundaries of Pueblo which were received from the State.

Supreme Court Decisions. Washington, November 11.—No. 45.— Linsworth R. Spofford, appellant, vs. J. B Kirk et al. Appeal from the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia. The Court of the District of Columbia. The principal question involved in the case is the validity and operative effect of an assignment of a pending claim against the United States; whether such assignment made before the claim has been allowed and before a warrant has been issued for its payment has any validity either in law or equity. The Court holds that the accepted orders under which the appellant claims gave him no interest in the claim of the drawer against the United States and no lien upon funds arising out of such claim. His bill was therefore rightfully dismissed in the lower court, and the Supreme Court dismissed the appeal.

No. 5—The Northwestern Fertilizing Co., plaintiff in error for the village of Hyde Park, et al., in error to the Supreme Court. The plaintiff in error in this cause, the Northwestern Fertilizing Co., was incorporated by an act of the legislature, and authorized to establish on the ground which is now near the limits of Hyde Park, and maintain for the term of fifty years chemical and other works for the reduction of offal to fertilizing compounds. The establishment, it is alleged, soon became so offensivess to be a nuisance. In 1869the legislature revised the charter of the village of Hyde Park, and expressly authorized it "to abate nuisances which are, or may be injurious to the public health." In accordance with this revised charter the municipality sought, by ordinance, to prevent the carrying of offal through the village, and in 1873, after due notice, proceeded to arrest and fine the Fertilizing Co.'s employees for violation thereof. A billt was then filed by the company, pray-

The Supreme Court of the State, on appeal, dismissed Court of the State, on appeal, dismissed the bill on this general state of facts. The plaintiffs in error appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States. This Court holds that the existence of the nuisance is uncontroverted, and that the police power of the State, which belonged to it at the adoption of the Federal Constitution and which it still possesses, is adequate to give effectual remedy since it extends to the entire property and business within its local jurisdiction and regulation, and the abatement of nuisances, is its ordinary functions. The decree of the Supreme Court of Illinois is therefore affirmed.

To James Patrick, Chairman of the Citisens' To James Patrick, Chairman of the Citizens' Committee, San Francisco:
In answer to you'r telegram, I can say that we have less than $10,000 on hand, barely sufficient to pay outstanding liabilities. Undeserving parties have not received help from us, unless fraud was practiced by them. In bestowing our charities we looked only to the necessities of the applicants, using our best judgments in distributing, and making no distinction between white or colored.

[Signed] A. D. LANGSTAFF, President Memphis Howard Association.

Milwaver, November 11.—During a dense fog last night the propeller St. Althans ran ashore at Fox Point Reef, twelve miles north of this harbor. She was discovered about five o'clock this morning by the steamer Dix, but Capt. Cochrane, of the latter vessel, was unable to render any assistance, owing to the lines on both vessels being too short. Later in the day the St. Albaas, after throwing overboard a most of her fuel and a portion of her freight, was released by the tugs Welcome tand Hogeman and brought to this port. The propeller does not appear to have sustained any injury.

tained any injury.

CINCINNATI, November 10.—A series of thefts of freight by the employes of the Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati & Indian-apolis railroad which have continued for apolis railroad which have continued for a long time, have just been unearthed by the detectives and eight of the employes discharged. Two of the party were arrest-ed and held for a future hearing. The theiving appears to have been confined exclusively to small articles taken from packages in transit. The evidence of guilt of the prisoners is said to be conclu-sive.
